ATTACKS NEW DEAL

"Fumbling with Recovery"
Key of Criticism

By WILLIAM L. BEALE

Topeka, Kas., July 24.—(AP)—Gov. Alf M. Landon summoned his chief aids today to develop in detail his strategy for battling what he calls the New Deal "record" in a presidential campaign "to restore our government to an efficient as well as constitutional basis."

John D. M. Hamilton, the national chairman fresh from an eastern swing and conferences with anti-Roosevelt Democrats, was called to the Governor's desk.

In turn, visiting Republican chieftains, national committeemen and state chairmen, anticipated a personal chat with their presidential candidate.

One possible guidepost was the nation's reaction to the speech in which Landon formally accepted the unanimous nomination of his party's national convention.

He told a vast throng which blotted out the south lawn of the 16-acre capitol square for "notification night" that "the time has come to stop this fumbling with recovery" and "to restore and to maintain a free competitive system—a system under which, and only under which, can there be independence, equality of opportunity, and work for all."

The crowd appeared with the 48-year-old Kansas executive from the start. Again and again he was interrupted by applause. A demonstration of shouting, flag-waving and hand playing lasting nearly ten minutes when he stepped forward to speak.

"Shall we continue to delegate more and more power to the chief executive . . . ?" "No, no, no," shouted the crowd in one of the most enthusiastic outbursts of the evening.

"Or do we desire to preserve the American form of government?" Landon continued.

"Yes, yes, yes," came back the roar.

Once started on his 4,000 word address, Landon read in a serious, intent tone. He used no gestures, but now and then nodded his head and clipped words for special emphasis.

Not until he had concluded did (Continued On Page Three.)

LEGIONNAIRES ARRAIGNED IN "THRILL" SLAYING

Charles Rouse Jack Bannerman Harvey Davis Irvin Lee Roy Luranc

"ARREST ANY MOMENT NOW" PROMISED IN CO-ED KILLING

Musician and Two Hotel Employees Remain in Custody—Slain Girl's Uncle Expected Back From Funeral in Ohio

Asheville, N. C., July 24.—(AP)—Sheriff Laurence E. Brown reiterated today he expected to arrest "at any moment now" the man he suspects as the slayer of Helen Clevenger, 18-year-old New York University student found in her room at a fashionable hotel eight days ago.

Brown made it plain the suspect is not one of the three persons detained for questioning, but he declined to discuss the identity of the person he believes was the actual killer—"a particular person known to me."

The sheriff admitted, however, he would have to question the suspect before preferring formal charges.

Brown promised Wednesday night he would seize the man "within 48 hours." That would place the arrest by 7 o'clock tonight and today he said, "I'll stick by the 7 p. m. deadline."

Brown said Prof. W. L. Clevenger, 54-year-old uncle of the slain girl, was expected to Asheville today to aid in the investigation.

"Professor Clevenger left Fletcher, Ohio, yesterday morning," the sheriff said, "and will arrive here sometime today."

Clevenger went there to attend his niece's funeral.

The three still detained in the investigation are: Mark Wollner, concert violinist; Daniel Gaddy, 28-year-old negro nightwatchman; and L. D. Roddy, 25, negro bellhop.

The sheriff released Miss Mildred Ward, 19-year-old daughter of Wollner's landlady, who corroborated the musician's statement he was at home the night of the assault-slaying.

"I became convinced she had finally told me a straight story," the sheriff said.

PRIEST APOLOGIZES

BUT REFUSES TO ADMIT OR DERERS FROM VATICAN.

Detroit, July 24.—(AP)—Associates of the Rev. Charles E. Coughlin said today that he "probably will have no comment whatever to make" regarding reports that a telephone conversation with the Vatican preceded publication of the priest's public apology for having called President Roosevelt a "liar."

They said they did not know whether such a call had been made, and declared that Father Coughlin began preparation of the apology immediately after his return from Cleveland where he made the attack on President Roosevelt July 16.

In the same open letter which contained the apology, Father Coughlin expressed an intention to do all possible to defeat President Roosevelt for re-election.

Sleeping Man Crushed When Run Over By Car Indianapolis, Indiana.—(AP)—Lyle Bowling, 51, of Elsonville, O., a carnival company employee, died Friday of injuries received when an automobile beneath which he was sleeping backed over his chest. Arthur Reynolds, driver of the car, said he was unaware Bowling was under it.

STORMS HERE ONLY LEAD TO LIGHT SHOWER

Downpours Accompanied By Hail and Wind Fall Near County

CROPS STILL SUFFER

Major Drought Area in Corn Belt Soaked

Accompanied by a heavy wind and a great deal of lightning, a light rain struck Fayette county around 9:30 to 10:00 o'clock Thursday night. It was considered a benefit to parched crops, but not sufficient over most of the county to last more than 24 hours.

In Washington C. H., the rainfall was 10 of an inch, and the precipitation over most of the county seems to have been about the same amount, except in some parts of the southern end of the county, where it was considerably heavier and sufficient to do a great deal of good.

The wind, which started in the evening, continued throughout much of the night, and during the rain was very violent in some areas, breaking off limbs of trees and causing other damage.

The mercury was driven down from 89 in the afternoon to 65 during the night. It was back at 74 at 8:00 Friday morning.

MORE RAIN EXPECTED BEFORE END OF WEEK

Columbus, O.—(AP)—Ohioans expected more rain today but farmers feared the first real break in the drought had come too late to save them from heavy crop losses.

Yesterday's and last night's showers and downpours in various sections of the state were the first in from three to six weeks, and more than two weeks ago farm experts said rain must come within ten days.

LEGISLATURE ON ANOTHER RECESS

Senate Refuses to Adjourn So Committees Won't Be Dissolved—107 Bills Passed at Special Session

Columbus, O., July 24.—(AP)—A special session of Ohio's 91st General Assembly, called ten months ago by Gov. Martin L. Davey "for a few days," lapsed into inactivity at last today, but without sighting sine die adjournment.

Senate refusal to go along with a house resolution calling for the final bell Aug. 3 kept the session alive, but little more actual work was expected from either body until late fall. Senate leaders refused to agree to adjournment in desire to keep active a number of committees which otherwise would die.

During the 65 days of actual session since Sept. 17, 1935, the legislature passed 107 bills, climaxed Monday night by final enactment of a controversial new $6,500,000 relief bill for the next six months.

Governor Davey called the session primarily to finance old age pensions and poor relief and to develop an institutional building program. He said "a few days" would suffice to clean up the work laid out.

However, under 68 special messages from the Governor, the legislature considered almost every subject in the category of legislation.

Of the 107 bills passed, 17 still were on the Governor's desk awaiting his action. He vetoed three of the 197 outright and made partial vetoes in several appropriation measures. A total of 261 bills was introduced.

Detroit, July 24.—(AP)—Authorities studied today the advisability of draining a pond near Pinckney, Mich., where the body of one alleged Black Legion victim was found, in their search for further evidence against masked and hooded members of the terroristic band.

An assertion attributed to Harvey Davis, Black Legion "colonel," that "that sinkhole could tell plenty if it could talk," spurred them in their search.

Prosecutor Duncan C. McCreary said Dayton Dean, confessed Black Legion "executioner," told him of the remark and that James Roy Luranc, one of five, including Davis, who are accused by Dean of the thrill slaying of Silas Coleman, 42-year-old negro hod carrier, corroborated the story.

Coleman's body was found a year ago in the swamp. Dean's recent statement offered the first explanation of his death.

Overtime Wages Ordered By Big Steel Companies

New York.—(AP)—Bethlehem Steel Corp. Friday established a system of weekly overtime wages for mill workers similar to that announced by U. S. Steel Corp. and Republic Steel Corp.

Pittsburgh.—(AP)—The Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., a large independent producer, announced Friday a time and a half overtime schedule for its employees along the lines announced by the U. S. Steel Corporation.

Two Crushed To Death At Storm Flattens Tent

Trenton, N. J., July 24.—(AP)—Two men were crushed to death early today when a heavy windstorm leveled a large tent in which a marathon dance contest was being staged. More than a score of other persons, spectators and contestants, suffered minor injuries.

U. S. WARSHIPS SPEED TOWARD TROUBLE ZONE

Heavy Artillery Attack Spreads Ruin into Major Cities

4,000 REPORTED DEAD

Rebel Forces Propose to "Starve Out" Capital

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—The navy made ready today to speed more warships to Spain if necessary, while concern over the safety of Ambassador Claude G. Bowers and 1,582 other Americans on the peninsula increased in official circles here.

As appeal after appeal for aid poured in from diplomatic officers in the war-torn country, four American ships sped there to evacuate the Americans. The American Export Line steamer, Exeter, was expected to be the first to arrive, docking at Barcelona today.

Ominous advices were received from Madrid, where 466 Americans reside. Embassy officials there cabled that they had heard reports that government forces had lost a battle with rebels north of the city and were retreating on the capital in disorder.

Frankly, embassy officials headed by Third Secretary Eric C. Wendelin sought to get all Americans inside the building. At last reports 100 had sought refuge within its walls.

"The situation at Madrid is becoming very serious," Wendelin said in a message.

4,000 ESTIMATED DEAD IN BITTER FIGHTING

An estimate of 4,000 dead in a bitter Fascist-Leftist fighting for possession of San Sebastian, famous Spanish resort on the Bay of Biscay, was made tonight (Spanish time) by Colonel Villanueva, rebel commander.

In a vicious battle near Endar-laza, Northern Spain, 55 rebels and an undetermined number of government militiamen were killed.

These casualties added to a roughly estimated 25,000 killed and wounded previously during the insurrection.

American Ambassador Claude G. Bowers, who had been summering in San Sebastian, was reported to have taken refuge at Fuenterrabia, a fortress 9 miles northeast of the city.

The state department was advised that the remainder of the Embassy had assembled in a hotel.

Villanueva pounded the town most of the day with a battery of three field guns from hills to the south. He admitted San Sebastian (Continued on Page Three)

TEST CASE WANTED TO SAVE LITIGATION

GOVERNMENT ASKS COURT TO HELP REDUCE COST OF COMPLICATED SUITS

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—The government asked the Supreme Court today to protect it against a flood of "complicated" and "expensive" suits until the constitutionality of the 1935 Public Utility Holding Company act would be decided in a single test case.

Stanley Reed, Solicitor General, sought a review of a court of appeals ruling, which refused to delay proceedings in seven injunction suits involving the same statute.

Reed told the Supreme Court the government would be burdened with forty similar suits in twelve different courts, all of them attacking validity of the holding company legislation, if the appellate court's decree were allowed to stand.

He said the government preferred to test constitutionality of the law in the Electric Bond and Share Company case, brought in the southern New York district court.

LAST MINUTE NEWS FLASHES

Chicago, July 24.—(AP)—The Western railroads announced today slashes in freight rates on feed for starving cattle into the drought stricken areas of the Northwest, including a 50 per cent cut on roughage and 33 1-3 per cent on hay.

Zanesville, O., July 24.—(AP)—Volunteer workers dug frantically today in an attempt to rescue 17-year-old Laird Ankrum from the bottom of a well in which he was trapped when the walls collapsed.

Recent workers said they were able for a time to hear feeble cries for help from Ankrum, but later the calls ceased.

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—Wilmer Allison, national singles tennis champion, said today he would not defend his title this fall and that he definitely was through with "serious" tennis.

Leamington, Ont., July 24.—(AP)—Three Michigan youths, lost in Lake Erie in a 25-foot sailboat for two days, landed today at the Point Pelee Lifesaving station.

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—Senator Glass (D., Va.) told reporters today that it was "utter nonsense" to interpret a recent speech he made "as indicating I am going to 'take a walk' from the Democratic party."

Berlin, July 24.—(AP)—The possibility of Eleanor Holm Jarrett's reinstatement on the American Olympic team appeared tonight despite the failure of a sub-committee to find grounds for reversing the decision that struck her name off the rolls.

Goshen, N. Y., July 24.—(AP)—Rain caused the postponement of today's Grand Circuit meeting here. The program will be raced off tomorrow.

New York, July 24.—(AP)—Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president, said today Gov. Alf M. Landon's acceptance speech "reveals no adequate grasp of the problems confronting us."

Paris, Ky., July 24.—(AP)—Barns and small buildings were demolished, a large residence was unroofed and scores of trees were uprooted in the southern outskirts of Paris when a cyclonic wind swept a comparatively small area.

Warsaw, July 24.—(AP)—Zygmunt Helmsz, former Polish shot put champion, was dropped today from Poland's Olympic team because of an infraction of rules.

LONDON CHARITIES FIND A RICH FIELD IN FILM BENEFITS

London (AP)—Charity organizers are finding film premieres more popular than society balls, and also that they often produce higher profits.

It is predicted for the fall that the charity film matinee will be as popular a social function as was the afternoon stage show in the reign of King Edward VII.

Fashion designers are watching the growth of this vogue, as it will influence their autumn collections. Afternoon and evening cinema dresses, designed for double-date use, and suitable for dinner and supper parties afterwards, may be so much in demand that they may threaten the popularity of the formal evening gown.

Battle Plans Being Laid By Landon Force

he smile and wave again as he had when he walked onto the platform.

Nearby sat Mrs. Landon, smiling at times at bursts of applause. Next sat the Governor's 79-year-old father, Peggy Anne Landon, 19-year-old daughter, had an eye for the crowd and happenings in the press boxes.

Hamilton opened the formal ceremony which climaxed a day of pagantry. Brig. Gen. Milton R. McLean, Kansas Adjutant General, estimated a two hour parade drew 120,000 persons onto Topeka's avenues, brilliant with banners, sunflowers and bunting.

The Republican chairman introduced Rep. Bertrand Snell of New York on this "happy and auspicious occasion."

The permanent chairman of the Cleveland convention then delivered the traditional notification speech, telling Landon "America will see you through to victory."

Landon was dressed in a light linen suit as he arose.

On recovery and relief, the Republican nominee said: "The time has come to unshackle initiative and free the spirit of American enterprise. We must be free from incessant governmental intimidation and hostility x x x from private monopolistic control." x x x those who need relief will get it."

Debts and taxes: "Crushing debts and taxes x x x invariably retard prosperity. x x x our party holds nothing to be of more urgent importance than putting our financial house in order."

Farm policy: "The administration, through its program of scarcity, has gambled with the needed food and feed supplies of the country. x x x we shall establish effective soil conservation and erosion control policies. x x x we propose to pay cash benefits."

Labor: "An employee has an equal right to join a union or to refuse to join a union. x x x under all circumstances x x x to be free

Fights Kidnap Charge

Jack Peifer

Charged with conspiracy in the abduction of William Hamm, St. Paul brewer, Jack Peifer, above, night club operator, took the stand at his trial in St. Paul and made a general denial of the charges. Peifer was accused of accepting $10,000 of the ransom money. His lawyers have been fighting to save him from a possible life sentence as a kidnap conspirator.

from interference from any source."

International relations: "We shall join no plan that would take from us x x x independence of judgment x x x that might involve us in a war."

Constitution: "It is not my belief that the constitution is above change. x x x but the changes must come by and through the people and not by usurpation."

Among the reports which Hamilton brought back to his chief were the results of conferences with Alfred E. Smith and former Gov. Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts. They were two of five Democrats signing an open letter to the Philadelphia convention urging rejection of President Roosevelt's name.

"When such men as Governors Ely and Smith take the platform during this campaign—and I think they will take the platform—and preach the doctrine of Americanism, let us say hallelujah," Hamilton told Republican committee at a luncheon.

Smith has declined to discuss his campaign plans while, Ely has indicated he would take the stump for Landon.

For a recent test, Wesley Ruggles directed his brother, Charlie, the comedian. Wes has never directed Charlie in a full length picture, although both have been working at the same studio for years.

MORE RAIN FOR HERE IS NOW FORECAST

State University said today: "The rain will relieve the perishing corn crop to some extent and raise hopes of farmers who have had to report to hauling water for their parched crops. Half an inch will help pastures a lot and will dampen the ground enough to let the farmers make seedlings for the late forage crops and for meadows next year."

Yesterday's rain fell mostly in central and northern Ohio, with some hitting the drought triangle west and southwest from Columbus. However, more rain was indicated there over the week-end.

Electrical storms caused several injuries and some damage over the state. In Cleveland Stephen Kristofsky, 37-year-old street-car conductor, learned he had been burned by lightning which struck his car when passengers cried, "your shirt's on fire." He was standing with his hands on the metal fare box when the bolt struck. Passengers put out the fire with coats.

Near Marion lightning struck and destroyed St. Jacob's Evangelical and Reformed Church at Wadon and killed 20 hogs in a nearby field.

In Wood County, 1.13 inches of rain fell and officials of a canning (J. H. Heinz) factory described it as "worth a million dollars" to the farmers of that area.

A wind storm caused considerable property damage in the vicinity of Bowling Green. The roof of the Center Township Garage, two miles east of here, was blown off and came down on U. S. Highway 6, blocking traffic.

During Thursday's storm hailstones described by residents as being as large as hen eggs fell near Mt. Sterling, puncturing tops of automobiles.

Wind and hail caused extensive damage to corn crops throughout the state.

MAJOR DROUGHT AREA IN PATH OF CLOUDS

Chicago, July 24.—(AP)—Wide-spread rains, scattered but heavy enough in most cases to benefit crops, were predicted for most of the drought ridden north central states by government forecaster J. R. Lloyd today.

Showers were forecast in portions of North Dakota, eastern South Dakota, Minnesota, central and eastern Iowa and Wisconsin.

Tomorrow Lloyd said, rains probably would fall in Illinois, western and southern Indiana and eastern and southern Missouri.

"These rains will be scattered but they will cover considerable area," said Lloyd. "They will be sufficient in volume to be of value to crops excepting the Dakotas, where they will be mostly sprinkles."

AMERICAN FIRED ON IN SPAIN

still was in Loyalist hands.

Spanish Rebels fought Leftist government forces only a few miles from Madrid today while the Fascist high command was reported to be maneuvering to "starve out" the capital city and other strategic points.

The American state department was advised that two men, attempting a mission of relief for the American Consulate at Barcelona, had been killed.

One was Santiago Iturralde, a Spanish clerk, and an unidentified chauffeur. They were trying to bring to the Consulate George Jenkins, head of an American motor company at Barcelona, who was on the outskirts of the city.

Both men set out from the Consulate on July 22 in an automobile flying the American flag.

They never reached their destination and definite word of their deaths came today. Jenkins was reported safe.

The United States, France and Great Britain agreed to pool their facilities to evacuate refugees, American and English refugees arriving at Marseille, France, from Barcelona said they heard General Manuel Godea and 47 other rebel officers had been slain in prison by their Loyalist captors.

"Starve out" tactics planned by the rebels for Madrid by means of an army encircling movement were contemplated also for San Sebastian and Irun.

On a front a few miles northwest of Madrid, the government threw reinforcements into a mountain pass, called the gateway to Madrid, in an effort to stem the rebel advance.

The rebels themselves trundled reinforcements north to besiege Leftist strongholds.

From Pamplona, Gen. Emilio Mola, northern Fascist commander, sped toward Madrid to take personal charge of the troops battling southward. Truckloads of peasant volunteers streamed over the highways to rebel-held Pamplona and to the San Sebastian front.

In Madrid a call was issued for reinforcements.

Reports received in Lisbon, Portugal, said a provisional government for Spain was being organized at the rebel stronghold of Burgos.

Spanish communists in San Sebastian threatened to kill 500 Spanish aristocrats if the rebels did not stop bombing the resort from the air.

Diplomatic dispatches received in Paris from Madrid said the rebels apparently were "on top" in Spain.

President Manuel Azana announced that the rebels were "failing."

Spanish communists in San Sebastian, the summer residence of American Ambassador Claude G. Bowers and other foreign diplomats, threatened to kill 500 Spanish aristocrats unless rebel airplanes ceased bombing the town, said reports received in Irun, Spain.

REBELS APOLOGIZE TO GREAT BRITAIN.

Washington, July 24.—(AP)—As an apology to British authorities for the action of Spanish rebel planes in bombing a British ship, Gen. Francisco Franco, the rebel leader, has awarded the military cross to the master of a British man of war which returned the Spanish fire.

This was reported to the State Department today by the American consul at Gibraltar, who recounted that Spanish rebel planes fired on the British ship Gibraltar yesterday afternoon.

The British warship Whitehall returned the fire as a "warning."

General Franco not only awarded the decoration but tendered his regrets to British authorities for the flight of rebel planes over Gibraltar.

Batavia Jail Crowded To Double Its Capacity

EMERGENCY COURT HELD IN ARMORY TO GET RELIEF

Batavia, O.—(AP)—With 19 prisoners held in a jail containing only five cells, the Clermont county grand jury went into session Friday to investigate 12 cases ranging from petit larceny to manslaughter.

Extra cots for the prisoners have been obtained from the Ohio National Guard. Court is being held in the Batavia armory during construction of a new court house, one of several WPA projects here.

TRANSIT COMPANY SUE FOR DAMAGES

Columbus, O.—(AP)—The Cooperative Transit Corp. of Steubenville was named in damage suits totaling $40,000 filed in federal court Thursday by George and Mary Kennedy of Cleveland. They claimed negligence on the part of the transit firm on July 22, 1934, when they said they were injured in a collision of their automobile and a traction car.

WILL INCREASE FLOOD PROTECTION

Portsmouth, O.—(AP)—Only a release from Dr. Carl Watson, Ohio Works Progress Administrator, was awaited Friday to set in motion Portsmouth's $458,168 flood defense program, augmenting the $750,000 flood wall which protected the city during the last flood. The project cleared the federal comptroller's office in Washington Thursday.

Strikers Back At Work With 5 P. C. Wage Boost

Pittsburgh, July 24.—(AP)—The committee for industrial unionization of the steel industry announced settlement today of a strike of 800 employees of Hubbard & Co., hardware manufacturers, with a five per cent wage increase. The workers went on a strike a week ago, demanding a 20 per cent increase.

U. S. GRAND JURY INDICTS FARNSWORTH

Washington.—(AP)—Assistant District Attorney Samuel F. Beach, said the District of Columbia federal grand jury had indicted John S. Farnsworth, former navy Lieutenant Commander on a charge of communicating confidential information concerning the atomic defense to a Japanese agent.

Trucks Crash And Burn With Loss Of $20,000

Bowling Green.—(AP)—Two heavily loaded semi-trailer trucks collided and burned with a loss estimated at $20,000 Friday morning in the Dixie highway nine miles south of here.

Neither driver was hurt. Both trucks were owned in Detroit and bound for that city.

MARKETS and FINANCIAL NEWS

DAY'S ACTIVITIES IN WALL STREET

By VICTOR EUBANK

New York, July 24.—(AP)—Inspired by further signs of industrial progress, selected stocks swung upward in today's market for gains of fractions to 3 or more points.

While many of the recent leaders were restrained by profit taking, outstanding soft spots were few. The close was firm. Transfers approximated 1,350,000 shares.

J. I. Case, Minneapolis-Honeywell, and Douglas Aircraft got up some 5 points each at their best. Others conspicuous on the upside included Philip Morris, G. C. Murphy, Collins and Aikman, Owens-Illinois, Purity Baking, Electric Auto-Lite, Hercules Motors, Santa Fe, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Bendix, Davila Stores, Allied Stores, Seaboard Oil, Macy, Holly Sugar, American Crystal Sugar, International Harvester and Deere.

Chrysler, General Motors, Auburn Louisville and Nashville and Continental Can inclined to heaviness.

Bonds pushed to the front for substantial advances. Foreign gold currencies were lower in terms of the dollar. Cotton was up most of the day. Corn at Chicago reacted 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 cents a bushel and wheat was off 1 1/2 to 2.

WOOL MARKET

Boston, July 24.—(AP)—(U. S. Dept. Agr.)—The movement of wool in the Boston market continued to be mostly of fine western grown lines today. The price situation was unchanged compared with the earlier part of the week.

Sizable offerings of average to good French combing length fine territory wools in original bags were firm at 83 1/2 to 85 cents, scoured basis, although it was reported that small lots were occasionally obtainable in Boston at slightly lower prices. It was also reported possible to buy an occasional clip in the west that would cost around 80 cents landed Boston.

Faces Nazi Court

Lawrence Simpson

Arrested in Hamburg, Germany, in June, 1935, on a charge of possessing anti-Nazi documents, Lawrence Simpson, above, seaman on the U. S. S. Manhattan, will face a secret Nazi court in Berlin, July 28. The charge now has been changed to "illegal export of money." Simpson's father, who resides in Seattle, Wash., has appealed to the U. S. state department.

"HUNGER ARMY" BESIEGE LEGISLATORS

Harrisburg, Pa., July 24.—(AP)—A jeering "hunger army," clamoring for more than twice the amount of relief the legislature said it would provide, "occupied" Pennsylvania's capitol today for the second day.

Angered by the legislature's failure to renew aid, shut off Tuesday midnight, several hundred unemployed men, women and children slept in the capitol again.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN

Chicago, July 24.—(AP)—Notable weakness developed in the corn market late today, and did a good deal to drag wheat down.

July and September corn suffered the sharpest tumbles. July fell almost 3 cents a bushel. Forecasts of rain in virtually all of the north central states where drought has been prevalent acted as a decided bearish influence.

Corn closed unstable at nearly the bottommost point reached, 1 1/2 to 2 1/2c under yesterday's finish, July .90 1/2, Sept. .87 1/2 to .88 1/2, Dec. .80 1/2 to .81 1/2, wheat 1 1/2 to 2c down, Sept. $1.03 1/2 to $1.04 1/2, Dec. $1.04 1/2 to $1.05 1/2; oats 1/2 to 1 cent off, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to an equal gain.

THE largest of the season's County Club's fortnightly luncheon-bridge parties was delightfully entertained by Mrs. N. M. Reiff, chairman of hostesses, Mrs. Edgar Snyder and Mrs. Glenn B. Rodgers, Thursday. Despite the scarcity of flowers after the long drought, the adept hostesses had filled a number of baskets with colorful garden flowers and the big lounge was most inviting.

Over forty women were seated at daintily appointed tables, centered with vases of petunias and queen's lace handkerchief, for the luncheon of summer viands.

After pleasurable visiting around the tables, the guests enjoyed progressive contract bridge. Attractive prizes were won by Mrs. Ormond Dewey and Mrs. C. J. Gilman.

Participating in the gay afternoon were Mrs. R. M. Fisher, of Cleveland, Miss Aileen Freeman, of Huntington, W. Va., Mrs. Herbert A. Pearce, of Chillicothe, Miss Alba Junk, of Cleveland and Mrs. Aublin Hedges, of Hillsboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Halliday entertained their dinner-bridge club Wednesday evening at the Washington Country Club for a pleasurable session. Mr. and Mrs. Larry B. Solether were guests with the club.

Mrs. Devins, club hostess, served a delicious dinner.

At the conclusion of the evening's bridge game, prizes were awarded to Mrs. N. M. Reiff and Mr. Ormond Dewey.

Another of the series of parties which Miss Linda and Billy Paxson are entertaining for their guests, Miss Margie Giles, of Shreveport, La., and Oliver Mansfield, of Cleveland, was a dinner Thursday evening. Seven couples were included in the affair and were seated at a prettily appointed table for the tempting dinner courses.

Following Miss Helen Simons, who was among the guests, entertained the party at the Fayette Theater.

Miss Janet Kirkpatrick, of Atlanta, was included in the party.

Mrs. Clovis Graves entertained her bridge club Thursday evening, at her country home on the Chillicothe highway, with one of the prettiest and most unusual among many delightful club affairs.

It was a "pink party", the idea ingeniously carried out by the clever and artistic young hostess so that pink dominated every feature. The hostess, the accessories of her costume pink, had asked each guest to wear either a pink gown or a touch of the dainty color. The effect, against a decorative background of pink gladioli and other pink flowers from the Buck florists, with blue delphinium adding a Frenchy touch, was extremely pretty.

The guests were seated at the card tables for a delicious dessert preceding the progressive bridge game. The tables were centered with pink roses sprayed with baby's breath and the favors were cunning little pink dolls, holding the place-cards.

A gaily enjoyed bridge game followed. The prizes were pretty gifts in pink and in pink wrappings and ribbons. Mrs. Paul Cameron, of Greenfield, won first; Mrs. Harold Pope, second; Mrs. Glenn Hughes, third. The hostess also presented a gift to Miss Juanita Hayes, who assisted in the courtesies of the evening.

This was the first time that Mrs. Graves had entertained in her country home, and the guests fully enjoyed its attractiveness.

Included in the party were Mrs. Paul Cameron, of Greenfield, Mrs. Glenn Hughes, of Chillicothe, Miss Goldie Cummings, Miss Helen Cummings, Miss Amelia Pensyl, Miss Ilo Larimer, Mrs. Howard Foster, Mrs. Charles Schwartz, Mrs. Clark Pensyl, Mrs. Edgar McFadden, Mrs. Harold Pope and Mrs. Clyde Cramer.

Complimenting Mrs. John Sheeley (Ruth Lemm) whose marriage was recently announced, Mrs. Chester James and her three daughters, Mrs. Anell Creamer, Miss Helen and Miss Lucile James, entertained at their home near Milledgeville Thursday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower.

A pink and white color scheme was attractively carried out in the decorations, with special decorating in the dining room, where the bride's gifts were heaped on the dining room table. There was a beautiful array of both useful and ornamental gifts for the attractive bride, who was yearning for the party a becoming frock of blue crepe.

The hostesses promoted a most pleasurable afternoon, providing contests for entertainment and at the close of the affair served delicious pink and white refreshments.

Among the guests were friends of the bride from Dayton, Xenia and Jeffersonville.

Mrs. Robert Dunton was hostess to her bridge club for a delightful session Thursday evening and included Mrs. Donald Moots as an additional guest.

Mrs. R. N. Ricketts and Mrs. Moots won the high score trophies in the evening's progressive bridge game and following Mrs. Dunton served a delicious lunch. One long table, attractively appointed in black and white, seated the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boggess and Mrs. Paul Greider and children, Phyllis and Donald, of Springfield, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Boggess, Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ross and daughter, Donna Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bevans, of Springfield, were evening guests.

HEARD ON A RECENT BROADCAST

Madeleine Carroll

One of the prettiest persons ever to face an American mike is Madeleine Carroll, heard on that recent Clark Gable broadcast. Let's hope she returns to the air waves, especially if we are going to have television soon.

Members of the Thimble Club and their children assembled at Perry's Park Thursday in the late afternoon for a picnic supper. There was bountiful provision of delicacies for the supper and a pleasurable afternoon enjoyed.

Mrs. Richard Staibus, of New Kensington, Pa., a former member of the club, was a guest for the picnic.

Mrs. Bernard Fulton will entertain the club in August.

Thirty-eight club members, an unusually large attendance, were out Thursday evening for the fortnightly men's supper at the Washington Country Club. Mr. Walter Ellis was the genial host and planned with Mrs. Devins, club hostess, a delicious fried chicken menu, finished off with ice cream and cake. The usual evening of cards followed the supper hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holdren, daughter, Harriett Lee, and Mrs. Robert Rodgers leave Saturday by motor for a three weeks' visit with relatives and to attend the Texas Centennial Exposition at Dallas.

Friends regret to learn that Carolyn Carr, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Carr, is severely ill, suffering with whooping cough and an infection of the throat and ears.

Miss Alba Junk, who teaches in the Shaw High School, of Cleveland, and is spending the vacation at the country home of her father, Mr. O. M. Junk, near Sabina, is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. Troy Junk at their Cedar Hurst cottage.

Mrs. Robert S. Harper, and son, Robert S. Jr., of Columbus, are guests of Mrs. Harper's aunt, Mrs. Calvin Holmes. Mr. Harper motors down for them Sunday and will also visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Harper.

Mrs. Lydia Porter left Thursday for Washington, D. C., to spend the winter with her oldest son, Mr. Wallace Porter, who is engaged in government service. Her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Poe, motored her to Washington, and expect to remain for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Staibus, of New Kensington, Pa., are spending a two weeks' vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Hall and Mrs. Regina Staibus.

Mrs. W. R. Hook, son, Robert, and daughter, Miss Eleanor, returned Wednesday from a week's outing at Indian Lake.

Screen Life in Hollywood

By HUBBARD KEAVY

Hollywood—First Impressions: She talked excitedly, stopping between sentences to catch her breath. As she was thrilled no end, she admitted, by being "really in the movies."

"But there's nothing for me to talk about, really," she bubbled on. "You see, I spoke one line in a picture (but the line didn't stay in the picture) and that was my test. I was just a chorus girl. I don't have any stage experience, but I lied and said I did. And now I've got a contract. Just think!"

"And they're going to change my name. But I don't care. They want to call me 'Dean.'"

But they didn't change her name. She's still Frances Dee.

FAT MAN'S LEAP

The first time I ever saw Charles Laughton, he jumped through a window. It wasn't for the camera, either. I was waiting in his ground floor apartment and he was late for the appointment.

Then I heard a clonky-clonky of some heavy-footed person trotting down the walk. I saw a big man, running toward the big window. He was waving.

Then he jumped. I was sure he wouldn't be able to lift all that weight over the sill. But he did. Landed on both feet. And practical-view. I was ushered into her dressing room by a trembling publicist, who immediately departed—leaving me, I thought, alone with a tigress. To my great amazement, I found the lady very pleasant. I discovered after she had answered many questions, that she wasn't putting on an act. I was favorably impressed then and, during many subsequent meetings, I never had occasion to change my mind about Constance Bennett.

A TAME TIGRESS I'd heard dismaying reports about this lady. I was told she was decidedly not a person to try to inter-

HAILSTONES BIG AS EGGS

Cause Extensive Damage at Mt. Sterling

Mt. Sterling, July 24—(Special)—Dozens of persons were repairing their automobile tops today as result of a hailstorm which swept this community about 2:30 Thursday afternoon, when hailstones as large as small hen eggs crashed through the tops.

The storm swept in from Range township in Madison county and headed eastward and southeastward into Pickaway county, stripping corn, pounding garden crops to pieces and breaking many window glasses.

The hailstorm was accompanied by a heavy rainfall, much wind and lightning, wind uprooting trees, twisting off limbs, putting 50 telephones out of order, and doing other damage, chiefly in the edge of Pickaway county as it roared southward.

Former Mayor C. M. Neff gathered up a basketful of hailstones, ranging in size from hulled hickory nuts to small hen eggs, and such stones fell in abundance, causing general scattering of people who sought to escape the pelting stones, and some of whom sustained bruises as they were struck by the falling ice.

The storm came quickly and lasted for some little time, the fall of hail being followed by a deluge of rain. Fortunately the strip covered was not wide.

The Palace of Sargon, at Khorsabad, Assyria, built in 700 B. C., covered 18 acres.

CENTRAL STRIPE IN COURT STREET

In order to better handle traffic in Court street, City Manager G. H. Sollars has had a central stripe painted in the street for four or five squares.

Traffic lines also are to be painted in Columbus avenue where it has been newly improved, to provide three lanes of traffic at that point.

The stripe in Court street is the first painted here for a number of ## years, and will do much toward regulating traffic over that much used street.

AMBULANCE BADLY BATTERED BY HAIL

METAL DENTED AND 15 HOLES IN TOP

While the Klever ambulance was bringing Mrs. Robert James from a Columbus hospital to her home here, Thursday afternoon, it was caught in the violent hailstorm at Mt. Sterling, and badly battered by the huge hailstones that featured the storm, some of the stones being as large as hen eggs.

John Gerstner was at the wheel, and was accompanied by Wilbur Mossbarger. When they encountered the hailstones they slowed down to prevent the chunks of ice crashing through the windshield, and were soon out of the worst of the hail, which extended into the edge of Fayette county.

Fifteen holes were punctured in the fabric top of the ambulance, a dozen dents made in the metal cowl, one headlight broken and the metal dented, dents on the horn and siren, spotlights, and metal top.

The size and force with which the hailstones struck the ambulance are clearly indicated by the pronounced dents, and it is believed that had some of the larger stones struck a person exposed to the storm, they would have been rendered unconscious.

The patient in the ambulance did not become alarmed at the pelting hailstones, and rode through the storm without discomfort.

Tell of Fighting Flames 20 Minutes Before Taking to Life Boat

Lorain, O., July 24—(AP)—Six Clevelanders, rescued last night from a burning 46-foot cabin cruiser which exploded two miles off shore west of Lorain, told today of fighting flames for 20 minutes before taking to a lifeboat.

"About five miles west of Lorain there was an explosion," said Samuel S. Deutsch, 50, owner of the boat. "It seemed as if the whole motor jumped up a foot, then settled back, and flames shot up through the floorboards all over the deck."

Deutsch and Harry Hoover, 19-year-old engine man, applied fire extinguishers but after 15 minutes, when the fire appeared under control, it flared up again.

"We put out in the lifeboat when we saw there was no possibility of saving the cruiser," said Deutsch, who estimated the loss at $20,000. "There were 180 gallons of gasoline aboard that we thought would go up any minute."

"We put on life preservers, but just as Hoover was getting in, the little boat was swamped by a high wave and we all piled out. While we hung on, trying to push the boat away from the cruiser, a plane circled us. We waved as well as we could. They went on, but I guess they sent help."

Hoover, Deutsch, Rudolph Deutsch, a relative, 67, Samuel Mandelker, 59, Charles Ginsberg, 50, and Morris Weiss, 67, were the occupants of the cruiser who were rescued by a Lorain Coast Guard picket boat commanded by Paul Forner.

The rescue crew found the five older men clinging to the overturned lifeboat 300 feet from the Rosa Jane. Hoover, the engine man, was picked up as he attempted to swim to shore for aid. They were on a pleasure trip to Put-In-Bay.

Earlier yesterday a report that a yacht was missing sent Coast Guards on a hunt in Western Lake Erie but the boat, the 65-foot Sea Jay, came into Cleveland Harbor. The owner was C. G. Hawkins of Painesville.

MEMOIR

Clarence Jones, son of Nathaniel and Alice Jones was born in Fayette County, Aug. 19th 1907. He was one of a family of eight children, three sons and five daughters. He grew to manhood in the vicinity in which he was born.

Possessing a quiet and unassuming disposition, he did not enjoy worldly amusements, but centered his love and affection on home and mother.

At the time of his death he was employed by the WPA.

On Sunday morning, July 19th at 3:30 o'clock, while assisting in moving Gooding Shows which spent the week at the old fair grounds in this city, he was fatally injured, when he fell from a truck, sustaining a fractured skull and other injuries.

Klever's ambulance conveyed him to Dr. Persinger's office, where he was cared for, and taken to the Carr Rest Home. Sunday forenoon he was removed to White Cross Hospital, Columbus, where an emergency operation was performed, but passed away Monday morning at 5 o'clock, aged 28 years, 10 months, 1 day.

His passing at this time cast a shadow of mystery that can never be solved but God understands.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Jones, two brothers, Richard and Jink, this city two sisters, Mrs. Jack Crocker, Columbus, Mrs. Howard Brown, this city. Three sisters preceded him in death a number of years ago.

Clarence will be missed by the entire family, especially by his mother, as he was the only child left in the home.

A precious one from us has gone, A voice we loved is stilled, A place is vacant in our home, Which never can be filled.

CARD OF THANKS

We extend our sincere thanks to the neighbors and friends who assisted us during our sad bereavement, Rev. Henry Leeth for his sermon and consoling words, the singers for the message of song, and funeral director Klever for his efficient services.

NEW WAGE PROGRAM FOR STEEL WORKERS

ARE TO BE COMPENSATE ON AN OVERTIME BASIS

New York, July 24—(AP)—The United States Steel Corp. and its subsidiaries announced a plan to compensate employees on a uniform basis for overtime work.

The agreement was reached, the corporation said in a statement, after consideration for a considerable period. The decision was arrived at following a conference with employee representatives, the announcement said.

TOURIST SEASON AT ITS HEIGHT

Apparently the tourist season is at its height, for cars from many states are moving through this city in large numbers, and one from the Panama Canal Zone was noted as it halted at a traffic light in Court street Friday morning.

Large numbers of Indiana, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Michigan, West Virginia, New Jersey, New York and other cars are included in among those going through.

During the next few weeks the tourist movement will be unusually heavy, and hotels, tourist homes and dining places, as well as filling stations, will have an unusually heavy business.

SISTERS DROWNED

Proctorville, O.—(AP)—Two sisters escaped death here when they escaped death last night when they were wading, hands joined together, a mile east of this Ohio river town, near Huntington, W. Va.

The drowned girls were Freda Bees Corbin, 13, and Doris, 10. Freda Bees went down first, and Doris drowned in an attempt to rescue her. The third sister, Lucetta Jo, 11, also attempted a rescue and was saved by Eva Dennis, 15.

FOSTER VIADUCT MAY BE SHELVED

Lebanon, July 24—Failure to receive bids on the $500,000 viaduct improvement on the CCC highway at Fosters, when the State Highway Department called for bids on the project, may result in the project being shelved at least for the time being.

In connection with the proposal the villageers have made a strong fight to prevent the change, stating that such an improvement would take all transient business from the village by carrying the roadway overhead.

WENDEL PROMISES TO TELL BIZARRE STORY OF ABDUCTION TO GRAND JURY

TRUCK CRASHES INTO FREIGHT

Driver Injured, Glass Is Shattered

John McKibben, of Ironton, driver of a Reinhardt truck, was injured severely about his right shoulder and right leg, about 3:25 Friday morning, when the big truck and trailer crashed into a freight car loaded with iron ore, standing on the Jamestown road crossing seven miles from this city.

A load of 1600 cases of glass jars suffered extensive damage as result of the crash, and both the truck and trailer were so badly used up that a wrecker from the company's headquarters at Huntington, West Virginia, was sent to the scene to handle the truck and cargo.

McKibben saw the train across the track too late to halt his truck and trailer, but did swerve to the left, with the result that the right side of the truck and trailer crashed into the loaded car.

McKibben was brought to Dr. J. M. Harsha's office and his injuries cared for.

The B. & O. crossing at the point where the wreck occurred has been the scene of numerous bad wrecks, all due to inability of the drivers to see the trains upon the crossing in time to prevent crashing into them.

Apparently there is urgent need of additional warnings devices at the dangerous crossing.

OFFICE-WORKER HELPED BY NATURAL LAXATIVE FOOD

ALL-BRAN Corrected Her Constipation*

Here is her voluntary letter: "For years I was a sufferer from constipation." It was necessary to take a laxative every night before retiring. I was an office-worker, and did not get much exercise.

"Some one told me that ALL-BRAN was a good remedy for constipation." I bought a box, and found that it helped my condition. Since then I have not had to invest in laxatives."—Mrs. Margaret Jones, 911 E. Laura Street, Clearwater, Florida.

Scientific tests have shown that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN corrects constipation safely and pleasantly. This delicious cereal supplies mild "bulk," as well as vitamin B and iron. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Wouldn't you rather enjoy this natural food than abuse your system with harmful pills and drugs?

Protect your family from the dangers of common constipation.* Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Either as a cereal with milk or cream, or cooked in tempting muffins, breads, etc. Recipes on every package.

Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

News Reports Wendel Is Ready to Tell a Story Sensational in the Extreme

Newark, N. J., July 24—(P)—Paul H. Wendel, former Trenton attorney, went before the Federal Grand Jury today to tell his bizarre story of abduction and torture by which he said he was forced to make a false confession to the Lindbergh kidnaping.

He was the first witness as the grand jury opened its investigation of the strange sequel to the Lindbergh-Hauptmann case.

The Newark News said Wendel was prepared to tell "a sensational story" of a conference involving disclosures by Bruno Richard Hauptmann which was held in a Brooklyn hotel.

Wendel also had with him, the News said, a copy of an alleged letter which he claims was sent by Governor Hoffman to Ellis H. Parker on Feb. 28 while Wendel was being held at the New Lisbon colony for feeble minded males.

Gov. Harold G. Hoffman has said he was not aware of Wendel's detention or confession until the weekend of March 28 when Wendel was turned over to Mercer county authorities by Parker.

As Wendel was taken before the jury word was received from Albany that Gov. Herbert H. Lehman had signed a request for the extradition of Ellis H. Parker, Jr., son of the chief of Burlington County detectives, who with his father and three others were indicted in the county courts in Brooklyn in connection with the Wendel case.

Governor Hoffman, who previously refused to extradite the senior Parker, had no comment on this development, pending arrival of the extradition papers.

INFIRMARY HOME TO HIM—STAYS THERE

New Lexington, O.—(P)—Leonard Glidden, 93, who refused to leave the Perry county infirmary because it was the "only real home I ever had," died there Thursday.

Glidden paid $1 a day for his board and room at the home and left an estate which was expected to amount to about $9,000 in cash.

He was taken to the home in 1929 from a ramshackle house in nearby Millertown, where nearly $4,500 was found stuffed away in tin cans.

TAKE NO MUSSELS FROM OHIO STREAMS

Columbus, O.—(P)—A new policy governing the taking of mussels was adopted by the Ohio Conservation Council Wednesday. All waters will be closed to shell fishermen from Jan. 1 to June 15 and all waters closed to fishing also will be closed to shell men. The council also refused to extend from 10 to 15 days the open season on pheasants and Hungarian partridges and rejected a proposal to limit the taking of raccoon to two a day.

COMMONS DISTURBED BY THE LABORITES

London, July 24—(P)—King Edward was called a "despicable individual" and Home Secretary Sir John Simon was referred to as a "liar" by Laborite speakers in a tumultuous session of the House of Commons.

Three laborites who participated in the namecalling were ousted from the chamber and a recess of 15 minutes was called to get the members' tempers under control.

50 WPA WORKERS IN ZANESVILLE MARCH

TO PROTEST DISMISSAL OF SEVERAL FELLOW WORKERS

Zanesville, O., July 24—(P)—About 50 Works Progress Administration Workers marched on City Hall protesting the dismissal of several fellow workers from a road project.

Police were called to maintain order and the workers dispersed when R. D. Overholder, supervisor of the WPA employment division, promised to take the dismissal cases up individually.

WPA officials said the men were dismissed because of breaches of discipline. Work on the project was suspended until Monday.

DRIVER INJURED AND DRAWS FINE

Frankfort, July 24—John Innis, Huntington, W. Va., truck driver, was jammed in the hip by a screw-driver he carried in his hip pocket, when the truck he was driving got beyond control on Brays Hill a mile east of here, and overturned in the ditch.

A State Highway Patrolman picked Innis up and he was fined $10 and costs for operating a truck without adequate brakes.

FORCES YOUNGSTER TO RECOVER FOOD

While watching a Redbird feed its offspring which was almost as large as the parent bird, a local resident a day or two ago noticed that "Papa" Redbird had selected a choice red berry from a purple nightshade vine ("matrimony vine") and offered it to the sturdy youngster, who proceeded to drop it upon the ground several feet below the grape arbor upon which it had been sitting.

As if chagrined at the action of the offspring in throwing away food given to it, the parent bird proceeded to peck the young Redbird upon the head until he forced it to the ground and then did not desist the punishment until the youngster had recovered the berry and swallowed it. Then everything was serene once more.

CARS ARE ROBBED TWO YOUTHS HELD

HELPED SELVES TO ASSORTMENT OF ARTICLES

Two youthful train riders are being held in the county jail, following their arrest by B. & O. detectives, on charges of breaking into freight cars and stealing goods from the cars while the cars were on a siding at this point.

Some butter, meat, watermelons, beer and other goods were stolen at this point, with the result that two or three detectives were soon on the trail here and found the pair enjoying their feast at a hobo camp in the outskirts of the city.

Due to their age they will probably be taken before the Juvenile Court.

Incidentally steps are being launched to break up all hobo camps in and near this city, and the officers expect to start work on the camps without delay.

SERMON ON CADMAN SUNDAY MORNING

Rev. A. K. Wilson, pastor of Grace Church, has announced a special sermon Sunday morning at the usual worship hour, in commemoration of the life and work of the late Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, internationally known radio clergyman, his topic being "The Man Everybody Knew."

Particular interest is added to the sermon by reason of the fact that Dr. Cadman years ago appeared on the Lyceum course in this city, and spoke upon two or three occasions from the same pulpit where Rev. Wilson will speak Sunday. Many persons in this city will recall Dr. Cadman and the notable lectures he delivered here.

TREAT YOUR RADIATOR RIGHT

YOUR car, just as you yourself, can't do its best when all hot and bothered. That's why it has a cooling system, to which the radiator is the key.

It's mighty easy to take care of your radiator and save a lot of inconvenience and expensive repairs and replacements, particularly if you visit the LINCO man regularly.

Every week around the calendar he will see to it that, each time you stop, the radiator has all the water it needs to keep the motor cool. He knows, too, how to prepare it for both winter and summer.

When the thermometer's heading for zero, he will prevent freezing up by checking the radiator to see that it has the admixture of water and alcohol in the scientific proportion for the various temperatures.

When winter passes, he will drain out the alcohol, flush every vestige of it out of the radiator, along with accumulated rust and sediment, and refill with fresh, clean water.

CARE of the radiator is just one of the many services available at LINCO stations and dealers.

ARRAIGNMENT OF MAN ACCUSED OF "INTENT TO ALARM HIS MAGESTY" POSTPONED

"Woman in Gray" Not Present at Preliminary Court Investigation

London, July 24—(P)—George Andrew McMahon, bald Briton who drew a revolver at King Edward's military parade, was remanded to jail for a week today after a hearing on a charge of producing a weapon "with intent to alarm his majesty."

The decision to grant a remand pending continuance of the hearing next Friday was made after Alfred Kerstein, counsel for the prisoner, had announced McMahon wished to testify himself and to call witnesses.

Sitting in the grimy Bow street police station courtroom in the heart of Covent Garden Market, the sharp-nosed McMahon heard special Constable Anthony Gordon Dick tell how he smashed at the prisoner's pistol hand when King Edward rode by on Constitution Hill eight days ago.

The hand had an "object" in it, the constable said. "I saw the object leave his hand at the actual moment I knocked his arm," he added.

Other testimony identified the "object" as a loaded pistol which clattered at the feet of the king's horse.

The "woman in gray" credited previously with striking McMahon's hand did not appear. Constable Dick, however, testified there was a woman in a blue dress at the scene who did not touch the man's arm.

The formal charge against McMahon was producing a revolver "with intent to alarm His Majesty."

Attorney General Sir Donald Somervell, in charge of the prosecution, quoted the prisoner as telling the police: "I wanted to shoot myself in front of the King, but I lost my head."

McMahon, bald-headed and club-footed, limped into court from a side door, accompanied by a policeman.

Judge Sir Rollo Graham Campbell told him: "You can sit down if you like."

The attorney general said the prisoner had told the police, "I wish I had done the job properly," that he also had said, "I could easily have shot him;" and that subsequently he had said, "it would have been better if I had shot myself."

Somervell credited Dick with knocking the revolver from McMahon's hand.

Reviewing the events of July 16, Somervell stated a mounted policeman stopped his horse in front of McMahon as the king approached. He said McMahon shouted: "Take your damn horse away. I want to see the procession."

BASEBALL AND GOLF FOR THE KIDS GETS OHIO'S SPORTLIGHT

Legion 4-day Tourney for Ball Teams on While Caddies Shoot at Title

By FRITZ HOWELL

Columbus, O., July 24—(P)—Central Ohio will team with "young America" early next week as teenage kids from all parts of the Buckeye Domain decide championships in two sports.

The baseball diamonds of the Capital City will be the battle ground of 11 American Legion Junior teams, all members of which are 17 years of age or less. They will be seeking the state crown now held by Middletown, but the Middies are back in, ready to defend their laurels.

The Legion classic is a four-day event, winding up Thursday afternoon at the Red Bird Stadium as the two finalists meet in a contest preliminary to the American Association game between Columbus and Minneapolis.

On that game hinges the state championship, and the right to meet the Pennsylvania champion in a three-game series, Aug. 12, 13, and 14, in the home town of the Buckeye victor.

The other state-wide championship is scheduled Tuesday at the Rose Run golf course near New Albany, in northeast Franklin county, where the best caddies from about 60 Ohio clubs will battle it out for the crown.

Scotch foursomes will be the style of play, each club entering two youths who will take alternate shots at the same ball. The low medal score for the 18 holes takes the title.

All the entrants must be under 18, and must carry a letter from their club professional stating they have won their club championship.

Sam Bartsch and Russ Shie of the Orville Country Club won the 1935 title, after a playoff with Louis Meek and Dick Meiser of the Beaver Valley Club of Springfield. The twosomes toured the lay out in 74 strokes, just two over par. Jack Kidwell and Italo Marchi of Columbus Beason Light were just a stroke back for third place.

Ranney said most of the boys "thump" their way to the club then home again, and he promised to open the clubhouse the night before the meet for all those lucky enough to arrive then, providing them with sleeping quarters. Play starts at 1:30 P. M., and no one but the bag-toters will be allowed to play that day.

GRAND JURY PROBE OF WENDEL CASE

SEEMS ON THE PROGRAM FOR STATE OF NEW JERSEY

Newark, N. J., July 24—(P)—The Federal Grand Jury in session here decided to investigate the Paul H. Wendel kidnapping case shortly after it was advised by United States Attorney John J. Quinn that it had jurisdiction.

The decision was announced in a joint statement issued by Quinn and Julius S. Rippel, the jury foreman.

Wendel, former Trenton attorney, charged he was kidnaped in New York, tortured into making a false confession in the Lindbergh baby kidnapping, and then brought to New Jersey.

CHEWING GUM SALE IN KENTUCKY NIL

SALES TAX IMPOSED ON IT IS GIVEN THE BLAME

Lexington, Ky., July 24—(P)—Because the sale of chewing gum in Kentucky is "almost at a standstill in many communities" as a result of the sales tax recently imposed on it, the Wrigley Company of Chicago has decided to discontinue all forms of advertising in the state, it was disclosed with the receipt of a letter by the Lexington Leader today from the advertising agency representing the firm.

The tax, one penny on each five cents purchase, is included in the provisions of the omnibus nuisance tax bill passed at the recent session of the Kentucky General Assembly.

One year while visiting friends in Canada, Actor Ian Hunter earned $2,000 by trapping milk and selling the pellets.

GET BIG ORDERS FOR WELDED PIPE

REPUBLIC STEEL CORPORATION IS THE RECIPIENT

Youngstown, O., July 24—(P)—Republic Steel Corporation received a $250,000 order for 60 miles of 10½ inch electric welded pipe for a new natural gas line of the Pennsylvania Natural Gas Co.

The line will run from Condersport, Pa., to Dunkirk and Batavia, N. Y. The order involves 3,326 tons of steel.

An order for 80 miles of eight inch pipe for the same line was awarded to the A. O. Smith Co. of Milwaukee.

The Relief Problem

Our legislators seem to be in quite a quandary as to what to do about relief. That was to be expected.

The rural counties, for the most part, are having very little relief to look after and, in all, save a few instances, are taking care of their own needs and demands for relief. Not so, however, are some of the more populous counties, notably Cuyahoga and Lucas. Both of those large counties claim they are unable to take care of relief needs and ask the state to contribute hundreds of thousands of dollars to pay the cost of relief. That means that rural counties must tote all, or the major part of the relief load for the populous counties containing large cities doing without for their own needs if any should arise in the future.

If the facts about the relief needs in the populous counties convince the lawmakers that officials have exhausted all means to raise money within themselves then, of course the rural counties should pay or aid in paying the costs of relief. That's a part of the good neighbor idea.

But—and right there is where the difficulty arises—those counties, it seems, have millions of dollars in delinquent taxes they have not collected and, according to reports, distributors of the bounty of neighbors are too highly paid, that it costs nearly as much to distribute the funds as the counties pay for relief. And worse than all, it appears, there are many "on relief" who have no need to be—chiselers.

We are convinced that relief has been largely overworked and has become, more or less, in places, of a racket.

The question the legislators have to answer is whether funds are actually needed for relief. But the time has come when the drive should be to cut down on relief. Relief is growing bigger and more menacing every day.

Removing Phone Poles

For months the Ohio Bell Telephone Company and the Dayton Power and Light Company have been working to so arrange their wires in the city as to eliminate as many as possible of the unsightly poles in the uptown section especially.

Citizens generally have not been mindful of what has been going on because, until the last few days, the results of the vast amount of work done, at great cost, have not been visible. Most of the work has been done in the out of way places and with so little confusion and so little interruption to business that many of us had forgotten the promise of the utility companies, made months ago, to make the improvement.

It is a vast improvement. The city streets now look like city streets and citizens have much more "elbow room" which facilitates business as well as makes the community look more grown up.

Good Jobs Anyway

Dr. Townsend takes time enough between walk-outs to testify that of the one and one quarter million dollars collected to conduct the campaign for a pension of two hundred dollars per month for every person over sixty years of age, there remains only the sum of fifty thousand dollars.

All of which means that some folks have had, as cogs in the Townsend Plan campaign machine, some extraordinarily big paying jobs and more folks have had good jobs. Probably few of the former and more of the latter.

When we consider that one million two hundred thousand dollars has been spent by the sponsors of the Townsend Plan in the few months it has been advocated there must have been some very good jobs parcelled out among the faithful—none of whom have either been overworked or under paid.

Of course that doesn't mean that anyone has been "going south" with the campaign funds. Politics is expensive and a million dollars doesn't go very far nor "amount to much" when it gets there nowadays in politics.

SECRET SERVICE ROW IS ANALYZED

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington, July 24—The row between the treasury department's secret service and the justice department's bureau of investigation over the secret service investigation into G-men activities has many more ramifications than appear on the surface.

It is not a quarrel merely between two federal secret services. It is a question of a multiplicity of jealousies between a great many of them.

As has been widely advertised, a movement is afoot to compact Washington's governmental agencies together as far as possible, eliminating overlapping, altogether extinguishing various boards, of offices commissions and administrations and abolishing numerous jobs in the interest of economy and increased efficiency alike.

Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia is at the head of a congressional committee, engaged in working to this end. He is at it with unprecedented energy. The same thing has been tried before, but never, hitherto, with the remorselessness that Senator Byrd manifests.

REASONS

Those agencies which fear that they may be threatened with extinction naturally object to going into the discard, and each has assigned its secret service to the task of collecting evidence to prove that it, in particular, cannot be speeded. And, in each instance, it seems to be the threatened agency's policy to show, not so much that it is indispensable, as to show that its rivals are not worth while.

Therefore they are investigating one another.

SECRET AGENCIES

Now, federal secret services are about as thick as leaves in Valhalla.

The justice department's G-men have had most of the limelight of late.

However, the treasury's secret service also is fairly well known.

The postoffice inspectorship likewise is of long standing.

But there are plenty of other similar services, not so familiar to the public yet each highly conscious of itself—

The Federal Trade commission's, the Federal Power commission's, the SEC's, the FCC's, and the Customs' and the Internal Revenue and Narcotics Bureau's.

The agriculture department has a secret service, on the trail of soil conservation violations; the labor department has one, looking for illegally-entered immigrants.

The state, war and navy departments of course conduct lots of espionage in their respective fields.

have investigatorial bureaus, under PWA and WPA, which notoriously have caused trouble in the administration by investigating Postmaster General Farley.

In short, it is a network of investigation.

And that isn't all—
In the first place, this list of the administration's investigatorial bodies isn't a complete one; it merely is a guess at the total.

Second, every time a congressional investigation is set into motion (like Senator Black's lobby investigating committee and several additional ones) it puts a corps of investigators into the field.

CRISS-CROSSING

Now these investigators are investigating one another.

Present-day investigation is crisscrossing itself.

High Spots In Ohio History

From the Galbraith collection of Ohio Histories. Written for the Associated Press.

The death of Charles L. Swain at Cincinnati in 1933, marked the passing of prominent Ohio men who designed and made the state flag of Ohio. Others were W. S. McKinnon and Samuel L. Patterson and John Eismann of Cleveland.

It was felt that on the occasion of Ohio day at the American Exposition at Buffalo in 1901, the headquarters of the governor should be marked by some ensign—but Ohio had no flag. Why not adopt one for this occasion, the members of the commission said.

So at the dinner given in celebration of Ohio day two silk Ohio flags were presented—one to Governor Nash by Senator Patterson, and one to President Milburn of the Exposition.

Poetry For Today

THAT SCERET DREAD

I take in progress lots of stock;
To science I'm devoted;
And yet I daren't love that dog
Who in the prints is quoted
As saying humans have no
knack

For viands dessicated
And bitthely takes a lusty
crack
At diet concentrated.

For oft I've feverishly dreamed That some day fate might purloin

All vestiges of mushrooms
creamed
Or luscious, juicy sirloin,
Or frosted cakes, or pudding deep,
The kind that sauce enhances.
It almost makes me wish to weep
To think of all the chances.

And oft I've feared that I might come

Some night and miss the fragrant,
The delicate effluvium
Of kitchen odors vagrant
And only hear—Oh, Gosh! Oh, Gee!

It makes my nerves unsteady—
The little woman calling me:
"Come, dear, your capsule's ready!"

—GEORGE RYAN, in the Chicago Herald.

TRAIL BLAZERS

Who Made Ohio History

By R. C. HALL

John Cleves Symmes was born on Long Island, N. Y., in 1742 and became a surveyor and school teacher. He served in the American army during the Revolution and was at the battle of Saratoga. Moving to New Jersey, Symmes became Chief Justice of that state and represented it in Congress for a time.

When the Ohio Company applied to Congress for the purpose of a tract of western land, Symmes made a similar application for himself and associates. His application was for a large tract lying between the Big and Little Miami rivers and extending from the Ohio river far inland toward the headwaters of the two Miamis. This tract consisted of one million acres, but due to difficulties of the Indian war, the contract for this amount was not fulfilled and another contract was made for 248,000 acres.

Meanwhile, Judge Symmes had settled on his land and laid out a town, "Symmes City," which failed to develop into a real city, although the nearby city of Cincinnati grew up on his purchase.

His daughter married W. H. Harrison who later became famous as a general and as president.

Judge Symmes was a real trail-blazer for settlers in the Miami Valley.

ATHLETE'S FOOT

By JACK STINNETT

New York—Lillian Hellman is lonesome.

It's not that there aren't many friends about....she has only been back in town a few days and already she is threatening to change her address and take her telephone number out of the book....not because of her friends but because of those who think they are her acquaintances....It's just that "The Children's Hour," which Miss Hellman authored and which has been banging out at the Maxine Elliott in 39th Street for nearly two years, has moved on.

"One gets to depend on a thing like that," Miss Hellman says, with some sadness, "not only financially....but just because you know it is there. You open the newspaper in the morning and there the play is advertised and you know that tonight there will be a performance. During the evening you glance at your watch and mentally calculate on what lines are being spoken at the moment.

"It gives you such a comfort feeling to know that your play is running on and on and that it is being liked. And when it is gone, you feel much as if your oldest friend had moved out of the city forever."

After all, perhaps it is a good thing, Miss Hellman thinks. Perhaps now, she will finish that new play....the one which has been kicking about in her head for five years.

"It is about a small town, a small Ohio town....at least it is at this point. It's only about half done and there's no telling what it will be

Sparks from the grindstone smoldered in waste in the basket, and caused a fire which leveled the house.

THIRSTY BRIDGE.

Point Pleasant, N. J.—The Borough Council has billed the state highway commissioner $50 for "cooling off" the Bay Head-Manasquan canal bridge. The ascule drawn span bulged during the heat wave and wouldn't work. Confronted with a traffic jam, local authorities poured $50 worth of water on the bridge to get it into operation.

SUN'S GOSLINGS.

Lebanon, O.—Lew Stibbs, farmer, revised the story of the goose that laid the golden egg. He said it was so hot two weeks ago that a goose on his farm abandoned a nest of nine eggs on which she had been sitting. He said he later found eight newly-hatched goslings in the nest. He thinks the sun did it.

LOST LABOR.

Bertrand, Mo.—Safe blowers tediously prepared a charge of nitroglycerine and blew the lock off the post office safe. They got only five dollars and fled. Officers said the safe door had been unlocked all the time.

about when it is finished," she says

Miss Hellman went to Cuba to work on the play. And the play did come along until fascination for fishing overcame the creative urge.

She has heard that there are marlin in those waters....people talk about them as if snagging them were no trick at all....but Miss Hellman couldn't testify personally. She can testify personally....but from observation only....to the potency of the "secundo."

The "secundo," it seems, was the invention of a Cuban sugar planter, who had saturated himself with alcohol for so many years he used to sober up just for the kick.

What he wanted was a drink that would shock one right out of a hangover before breakfast and still carry one through until evening without additional imbibing.

The result was the "secundo"... a concoction of bacardi rum, absinthe and brandy.

"You know," says Miss Hellman, "it is one of those drinks after which your companion asks you 'Do you feel it?' and while you are shaking your head, you fall on your face."

The success of Lillian Hellman's first play was the talk of two seasons back....the success of her screen adaption of that play, which ran not under the title of "The Children's Hour" but as "These Three," provided plenty of "I-told-you-so's" for her enthusiasts last season. So, if you wish to get on the Hellman bandwagon, start predicting things for the film version of "Dead End."

Miss Hellman has a writing contract with Sam Goldwyn and she will go to Hollywood, probably early in the fall, to do "Dead End."

"PROVED" HONEST

The man applied for a position in a banking establishment. His appearance wasn't prepossessing and references were demanded. After some hesitation he gave the name of a teller in the firm's employ. This teller, he thought, would vouch for him.

The president sought out the teller and asked him whether the applicant was honest.

"Honest?" the teller said. "Why, his honesty's been proved again and again. To my certain knowledge he's been arrested 10 times for embezzlement and everytime he was acquitted."

O'NEILL

IS REAPPOINTED

As Manager of the Cleveland Indians and at Just the Right Time

ROWE BLANKS A'S

Cubs Lead Is Shortened by Loss to Dodgers While Cards Take Phillies

By SID FEDER

If the surging Cleveland Indians catch the Yankees in the current American League pennant chase—and that seems a lot more likely today than it did two weeks ago—the man who picked the moment for announcing Steve O'Neill's reappointment as manager of the tribe can take a large share of the credit. That announcement will go down in the books as the smartest psychological move of the season—the spark that set off the tribe's dynamite drive in the American League. Always popular with the players, O'Neill's resigning reacted as a bombshell to an apparently listless outfit, and bounced the club right back into the picture.

Up to that time, the Indians were playing a shade over .500 ball, lacking the pep necessary to make a fight for the pennant in any league. Since then, they've taken 11 of 14 starts, have shown the hitting and pitching that made the experts pick them as potential pennant timber for the last two years, and have shot from fifth to second place, cutting the Yanks' lead to eight games. They lost only their second start in 12 days yesterday, dropping a 9-8 decision to the Boston Red Sox.

The Yankees finally solved the pitching of the lowly St. Louis Browns with an 18-hit attack and ended their longest losing streak of the year at three games with a 15-3 victory. Joe Di Maggio belted two homers as Monte Pearson chalked up his 13th pitching victory.

Schoolboy Rowe turned in another fine pitching performance to give the Tigers a 2-0 victory over the Athletics, and enable the world's champions to hold onto third place, despite the 7-6 triumph of the White Sox over the Senators.

The Cubs' National League lead was shortened to two games as the Brooklyn Dodgers shoved over a run in the last of the ninth to clip the pennant defenders 6-5. The Cardinals, beaten twice in a row by the Giants, turned on the heat and came through with a 4-2 decision to drop the New Yorkers back to fourth place.

Regaining the third spot were the Pirates, who slugged behind Cy Blanton's six-hit pitching and trounced the Phillies 10-1. The Reds slipped into the second division again, falling 4-0 before the Bees and the five-hit pitching of old Bob Smith.

STUEBENVILLE LAD COPS CRUCIAL GAME FROM INDIANA ACE

Lakeside, O., July 24.—(P)—The Northern Ohio junior tennis championship remained in the state today as the result of a four-set victory in the final match by Harry Zink of Steubenville from Harry Weller of Elkhart, Ind. The scores were 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2.

In yesterday's other final, Jean Gillespie of Wadsworth captured the women's crown from Ruth Black of Lisbon, 7-5, 6-4. Play was scheduled to resume in the doubles today after rain washed out some of yesterday's matches. Bob Scully of Cincinnati and Stanley Hanna of Lakeside won from Robert Rowland and Harold Josif, both of Granville, 6-2, 6-2, and Wynn Rogers and Wilbur Frost, both of Granville, lost to Bob Friant of Toledo and Harold Dredge of Springfield, 6-0, 5-7, 7-5.

FEMININE STAR OF U. S. OLYMPIC SWIMMERS DROPPED FROM TEAM AFTER DRINKING PARTY

Former Washington C. H. Shoe Tosser Still Ringing 'Em Down in Kentucky

Do any of you old timers remember Charlie Schuman, who pitched horseshoes in Washington C. H. about 15 years ago?

Charlie is pitching in Covington, Ky., now and pitching an excellent game.

Charlie is tossing them for the Mecca Cafe team of Dayton, Ky. His team is in a tie for first place with two other teams in the Greater Cincinnati League.

Schuman once pitched seventeen straight ringers while he lived in Washington C. H. Maybe that accounts for his 55 per cent average for the season with the Mecca Cafes. The best he has done since he left here is 15 straight ringers. He says the trouble is he doesn't get as much practice now as he did here where he pitched three or four hours every day.

Charlie says that he pitched his best game in Washington C. H. against Jimmie Risk, Indiana, leading United States horseshoe pitcher at that time, garnering 35 points in a 50 point game.

Schuman works for a Cincinnati metal and iron concern as assistant shipping clerk.

ORDERED TO GO HOME

Plea for Another Chance Meets Cool Reception from Brundage

ADMITS WRONG-DOING

Ship Arrives at Germany and Rousing Ovation Given Americans

By ALAN GOULD

Berlin, July 24.—(P)—The decision barring Mrs. Eleanor Holm Jarrett from the American Olympic team for violation of training rules was upheld today by a committee of Olympic officials headed by Dr. Joseph E. Rayeroff of Princeton University.

Hamburg, Germany, July 24.—(P)—The American Olympic committee today granted Eleanor Holm Jarrett's tearful plea for a formal hearing on charges that she had violated training rules but indicated.

At present the broad-shouldered, brawny-armed youth is pacing all Indian batters with a .379 average, and has hit safely in 15 consecutive games and has 25 runs, 41 hits, including two home runs, five triples and 11 doubles—and 22 runs batted in to his credit.

In self-defense the veterans have been extending themselves to avoid being outdone by a rookie.

Weatherly's 168 pounds are compactly moulded on a five-foot, six and one-half inch frame. Born in Warren, Tex., in 1916, he has had only two years in professional baseball.

He came to Cleveland after flashy work in the Southern Association for the New Orleans Pelicans.

"It's hard to believe that just three years ago I was playing semi-pro ball," said Weatherly.

One grasped his nimble...and swished mightily...but the club caught the ball instead of the sand...and the little white sphere rammed across the green to the base of a well-trimmed hedge along a walk.

A right-hand stance was impossible...and a hurry-up call to the pro shop brought a left-handed club.

The southpaw swing was too deep...and the ball popped up into the hedge...sticking amid the tiny branches. Three more wild swings finally disclosed it...and the next stroke put it back in a trap.

Nine strokes gone...and still in the trap...the sweating gladiator shunned all thoughts of picking up and awarding the hole to his foe who was three...in another trap a little farther away.

The "three-shot" player...mumbling to himself because his "nine-shot" opponent insisted on playing out the hole...stepped into the trap beside his ball and took his stance.

But...wonders will never cease...he accidentally grounded his club in the sand back of the ball. And Mr. "nine-stroke"...still in the trap...with a glorious 12 the best he could look forward to...called the club-grounding penalty, claiming the hole, the match and the inter-club affair.

And...backed up by all the rules books...he made it stick. Yes...believe it or skip it...golf is a funny game.

Credits Rookie For Cleveland's Rush Upward

TWENTY-YEAR-OLD ROY WEATHERLY SEEMS TO HAVE INSPIRED INDIANS

Cleveland, July 24.—(P)—Manager Steve O'Neill credited today a rookie, 20-year-old Roy Weatherly, with being one of the big factors in Cleveland's march from fifth to second place in the American League in less than two weeks.

Terming Weatherly "one of the finest prospects to reach the major leagues this season," O'Neill named the other factors as the sensational hitting of Earl Averill and Hal Trosky, the pitching of Dennis Galehouse and Mel Harder and the improved work of Frankie Pytlak behind the plate.

Weatherly did not cause the Indians to win 12 out of their last 15 games by any single-handed feats. But since his major league debut on June 27, against the gold plated Boston Red Sox, then in second place, when he hammered out two triples, each with two men aboard, and a single for good measure, he has been hitting with the best of the Indians.

At present the broad-shouldered, brawny-armed youth is pacing all Indian batters with a .379 average, and has hit safely in 15 consecutive games and has 25 runs, 41 hits, including two home runs, five triples and 11 doubles—and 22 runs batted in to his credit.

GOLF GALLERY

By FRITZ HOWELL

Yes...believe it or skip it...golf is a funny game!

And the peculiar part is that the "big" happenings seem to run in cycles.

It was just 10 years ago...out at the Scioto course in Columbus...that Robert Tyre Jones...the gorgeous Georgian...caromed a spoon shot off a galleryite's straw hat...and then scored the birdie which gave him the National Open championship...his second.

That same year...for some reason or other...two Columbus men played the longest hole ever played in golf.

Joe Masters...then pro at the Municipal Links...and Bert Bennett...then and now a sports writer for a Columbus newspaper...teed off from the No. 1 tee at Municipal.

Their goal was the first green at Harbor Hills...at Buckeye Lake...54 miles away. They made it in 16½ hours...which Bennett says was four under par...and if you don't believe it, just try it.

They finished the one hole in the glare of auto searchlights...and they lost 114 balls enroute. It was an "over hill, over date" event...and they passed through cities, villages, fields, streams and what not.

And now...10 years later...up hops another one...but this one was without malice aforethought.

Cleveland lays claim to it...or maybe the sixth city just shudders and admits it...but here it is (with all names and places mercifully deleted).

Six-man teams from two clubs met in a match play event...with the No. 1 men on each team playing each other...No. 2 men opposed...and so forth. The No. 6 men were 25-handicappers...even as you and I.

Late in the afternoon...after five of the twosomes had finished...the match was all even...victory hanging on the outcome of the clash between the 25-stroke handicappers.

That gallant pair...also all even after 17 holes...banged up to the final green and both landed in a trap in three.

One grasped his nimble...and swished mightily...but the club caught the ball instead of the sand...and the little white sphere rammed across the green to the base of a well-trimmed hedge along a walk.

A right-hand stance was impossible...and a hurry-up call to the pro shop brought a left-handed club.

The southpaw swing was too deep...and the ball popped up into the hedge...sticking amid the tiny branches. Three more wild swings finally disclosed it...and the next stroke put it back in a trap.

Nine strokes gone...and still in the trap...the sweating gladiator shunned all thoughts of picking up and awarding the hole to his foe who was three...in another trap a little farther away.

The "three-shot" player...mumbling to himself because his "nine-shot" opponent insisted on playing out the hole...stepped into the trap beside his ball and took his stance.

But...wonders will never cease...he accidentally grounded his club in the sand back of the ball. And Mr. "nine-stroke"...still in the trap...with a glorious 12 the best he could look forward to...called the club-grounding penalty, claiming the hole, the match and the inter-club affair.

FEATURE A. A. RACE

Winsett of Columbus Red Birds Continues in the Lead of Slugger Parade

ST. PAUL DROPS ONE

While Milwaukee Moves a Notch Closer to the Lead, Only Two Games Played

Chicago, Ill., July 24.—(P)—The American Association is keeping up the production of circuit smashes this season, the records show today.

With the season more than half over, 540 home runs have rattled off the bats of the Association sluggers, compared to the 460 which have been made in the American League thus far this year and the 373 which have been recorded in the National League.

Jack Winsett, Columbus outfielder, continues to lead the home run parade with 36 four-base smashes. Minneapolis has the greatest number of players up among the home run hitters.

The Kels have Earle Browne, with 23, Joe Hauser, with 20, and Fabian Gaffke, with 17. Chet Laabs of Milwaukee has 25 to his credit and a teammate, Rudy York, has banked out 22.

Nick Cullop, veteran Columbus slugger, has 18.

Those totals can be compared with the "big three" of the majors—Lou Gehrig of the Yankees, with 28, Jimmy Foxx, Boston, with 26 and Hal Trosky of Cleveland, with 25.

Only two games were played yesterday, with the Kansas City-Toledo and Columbus-Milwaukee tilts rained out. Minneapolis beat Louisville 9 to 5, the Kels collecting 11 hits to six for the Colonels, who saw a four-run lead fade out when the Millers scored three in the sixth and four in the seventh. It was Minneapolis' last game of the season at Louisville.

Indianapolis gave the second place St. Paul team a trouncing, 17 to 4, in the other game under the lights. The Indians banged out 20 hits while the Saints hit safely 12 times.

BAUSCH DID 13 FEET Hamilton believes Morris can do 12 feet, which still is far below the pole-vault mark achieved in the 1932 Olympics by husky Jim Bausch, who scaled a bit over 200 pounds.

The pole-vault, oddly was big Bausch's best event at Los Angeles. He soared over the bar at 13 feet 1½ inches, which earned him 27 points over the "par" of 1,000 for each event on the list.

Bausch's next best event was the javelin, which he pitched 203 feet 1½ inches for 1,025.02 points.

Morris is a striking contrast to Bausch. The Coloradoan is slim, lithe and a sprinter of parts, a quiet modest chap who was a great student leader at Colorado State college in Fort Collins. Bausch was the strong man type, given to bragado, it seemed, but he could make good most boasts about his athletic prowess.

Before the Olympic Games at Los Angeles four years ago, Bausch would sit around with his teammates and tell what he was going to do to the world decathlon record. His statements were answered with doubts, but he came off with a new world record point total that since has been surpassed by both Hans Stenvert of Germany and Glenn Morris, who broke all decathlon records at Milwaukee.

A new Finnish scoring system is in vogue this year, but they scaled the old marks to the same level as the present ones—and any way they figured it our boy Glenn Morris is the best decathlon prospect in Olympic history.

HICKS INDICTED ON MURDER CHARGE

FOR "BUTCHERY SLAYING" OF RETIRED CINCINNATI
FIRE CHIEF

Brookville, Ind., July 24—(AP)—A Franklin county grand jury here has indicted Heber L. Hicks and three other Cincinnati men on charges of felonious homicide, and robbery in the butchery slaying of Harry R. Miller, retired Cincinnati fire captain.

Hicks is the only one of the four in custody. The death penalty is possible on two of the ten counts.
State police said they obtained a confession from him July 7 that he planned the slaying, with robbery as a motive, and hired William Kuhlman, Frank Williams and John
Pohlisky for the task.
Miller was slain at his home in New Trenton, Ind., June 11, the state charges, and his severed head, hands and body left at different points in Kentucky.

BAIL IS DENIED
BLACK LEGIONNAIRES

ON CHARGES OF KIDNAPING AND SLAYING NEGRO

Detroit, July 24—(AP)—Five ac-
Black Legionnaires, denied bail, will be given court examinations
Tuesday on charges of kidnaping and slaying an unsuspecting Negro for a thrill.

Four of the five joined in declaring that Dayton Dean, their accuser, was "crazy and getting crazier every time he opens his mouth." They are Harvey Davis, reputed Black Legion "colonel"; Ervin D. Lee,
John Bannerman and Charles Rouse.

Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea
said the fifth defendant, James Roy Lorance, had made a statement corroborating the story of Dean in essential details.

EMPLOYMENT UP
IN TOTAL FIGURES

Washington, July 24—(AP)—An increase of 58,000 from May to June in the number of workers employed in industry was reported by the labor department.
Payrolls also increased, the department said, estimating that weekly wages were nearly $1,100, 00 greater in June than in May.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

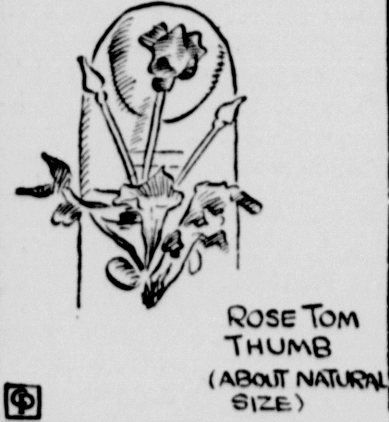

CHAPTER 21

JOAN'S DELIGHT at recognizing Donald Newberry was entirely out of proportion to the occasion but there were mitigating circumstances. She'd been in the depths of loneliness in the biggest, strangest city in the world, which means depths. And here was someone she knew. Furthermore this someone was an attractive young man. An added feature of the attractiveness of the occasion was the fact that Donald Newberry didn't know Joan, didn't know that Joan had actually been jilted. And he didn't know Julian and therefore she wouldn't find herself back talking in that circle.
"Tell me every single, little thing about yourself. I haven't seen you since I was a kid up in Boston," Joan begged him.
"No, tell me about you. And explain, if you can, how come Dorothy brought you up to be a wayward girl?"
Joan laughed and looked pained.
"Surely my behavior was anything but wayward. I've got a stiff neck from looking in the direction where you weren't!"
"The park bench!" he reminded her sternly.
"That was your fault, not mine.
I was enjoying a little meditation and you came and sat down beside me.
And by the way, speaking of misbehaviorism, do you go about picking up girls in parks? And why?"
"Always," he said blandly. "You see, I'm getting very old."
"He was older and much more attractive than he had been six years before when he had been one of Dorothy's Boston beaux. Joan liked the faint touch of gray at his temples.
Seeing it, her thoughts flew back to Julian. Donald was about 34. Six years younger than Julian and looked every bit as old. But, then, Julian didn't look old. Joan would have continued her train of thought indefinitely had not Donald recalled her thoughts.
"So have you," he said. "You've grown up from a spindly kid into a very lovely young woman. Married?"
"No. The next question is: 'In love?' ... Isn't it?" She forestalled him.
"Oh, so you've been through this before? Yes, that's the next question."

"I haven't," she said. "I'm what you call a career girl. I have a job."
"Somebody told me you were a school marm."
"Isn't that like someone? Well, I was, Donald, but I'm a secretary
now."
"Good heavens, a secretary! I thought you were going to tell me something exciting."
"But it is! I'm secretary to Julian Sloane."
"The playwright?"
"Yes. Joan couldn't help saying it with great pride and the slightest maternal note crept into the little word.
"Then I suppose you're flying high,
hobnobbing with all the big shots."
"On the contrary tonight I was thinking how lonesome New York is when you don't know anyone here.
I was wondering how all the girls
like myself who come to New York get to know people, what they do with their spare time and if I should ever collect a group of friends."
"You don't need to ever worry about that, Joan. You'll be collected soon enough. In fact, I'm going to start collecting you right away.
Remember Bob Goodsell?"
Joan tried to remember. Dorothy's beaux had always seemed terribly old to her when she was 16 and she vaguely remembered a few faces but their names escaped her.
"He was my roommate at Harvard. Married Betty Robinson."
"Betty Robinson! Betty, who went to the Grafton school?"
"That's the one. They're married and live down here in the village.
Have an attractive apartment, two good jobs and a youngster. I told them I'd stop by their place tonight and I'm going to take you along."
"Donald, how simply swell! I'll love seeing Betty again and ..."
Joan didn't finish saying that she wouldn't have to go back to Julian's house and meet him when Sheila was there.
Joan and Betty did what any two ex-schoolmates do when they meet for the first time in years. They fell on each other's necks. Betty dragged Joan from room to room of her apartment, woke up her small son to show him off and then they sat down to play a girl's favorite game of do-you-remember.
"You can't monopolize my new girl," Donald informed Betty. "Besides, you have other guests."
It was just the kind of a night
Joan had been thinking about when she sat alone on the park bench a few hours before. There was another young married couple, a girl who worked in an advertising agency and a boy who frankly admitted that he "had a crush" on Betty.
Joan was a little startled to discover that Betty encouraged him and that Bob didn't seem to notice anything. When Betty sat in a big chair, Finley sat on the arm of the chair. When Betty went into the kitchen to make coffee, it was Finley who went out to help her.
"I'm going to see lots more of you,
Joan. Will you have dinner with me

ROSE TOM THUMB
(ABOUT NATURE SIZE)

A pygmy rose

By DEAN HALLIDAY

THE SMALLEST of all small roses is the Tom Thumb, illustrated in the above Garden-Graph. It is smaller than its parent, the Roul-etti rose. A thimble would easily cover the bloom, and a teacup would encompass the entire plant.
The Tom Thumb rose is a brilliant red, with a white spot at the base of each petal of the fully-opened flower.

The Tom Thumb rose was introduced last season in a trial garden, and this year it is in great demand
both as a novelty and for its diminutive perfection. Patent for it has been applied for at the U. S. patent office.

LICKING COUNTY
WILL HAVE FAIR

Newark, O., (AP)—The 1936 Licking County Fair will be held in Buckeye Lake park Sept. 16 to 19,
it appeared Friday after Keith W.
Lowery, secretary of the County Fair Board, announced permission to hold the annual affair had been obtained from the State Bureau of Parks and Lakes. Fairs have been held in a field near Newark since 1933 when Mound Builders State Park was created on the old fairgrounds site.
